

Demonstratives: Illustration of Scale

The size of a aircraft carrier...

The length of a football field...

Scale often matters in litigation cases. Accurately depicting how big (or small) things are can be critical.

ThemeVision is often called upon to illustrate relative size comparisons.

- In toxic tort case, it may be critical to show proper proportion of ingredients.
- In construction cases, it might be crucial to show acceptable tolerances or variances.
- In medical cases, formulation, dosage and treatment level may be of significance.
- In product cases, active ingredients and quantity measurements could be at issue.

When you need your decision maker to understand just how big or small something really is, give us a call.

Illustrations shown may no longer be to scale.
